The short version of this is “never mind,” but for the record:

As you know, the ASRC Primus has been working to provide Jon Vail with CBI a large number of documents out of SDMS related to the many sites associated with the Upper Animas site & area. R8 determined that we would provide only publicly releasable documents at this time, await CBI’s review & analysis of those, and then determine whether EPA would provide any restricted documents to CBI. The document delivery process to CBI has been complicated enough that its taken a couple rounds of exchange of lists, as well as at least two rounds of providing documents to CBI. Reviewing the situation yesterday, the ASRC Primus concluded that they had inadvertently provided CBI with a restricted document, identified below.

I discussed this situation with Richard Sisk & then with Jon Vail or CBI. As best John could determine, CBI never received the document in question. Jon agreed to inform his co-workers of restricted nature of the document, and to direct them to destroy it immediately if they come across it. Jon also agreed to let me know if CBI does find a document.

I’m not sure exactly the source of the confusion, but as far as I can tell EPA (and ASRC Primus) did not release the document below. Sorry for the distraction, but wanted to document the incident.
